

There are 5 different parties involved in oauth

Protected
Resource

Resource
Owner

Resource
Server

Authorization
Server

Client

3 mostly used oauth techniques

Authorization
Code Flow

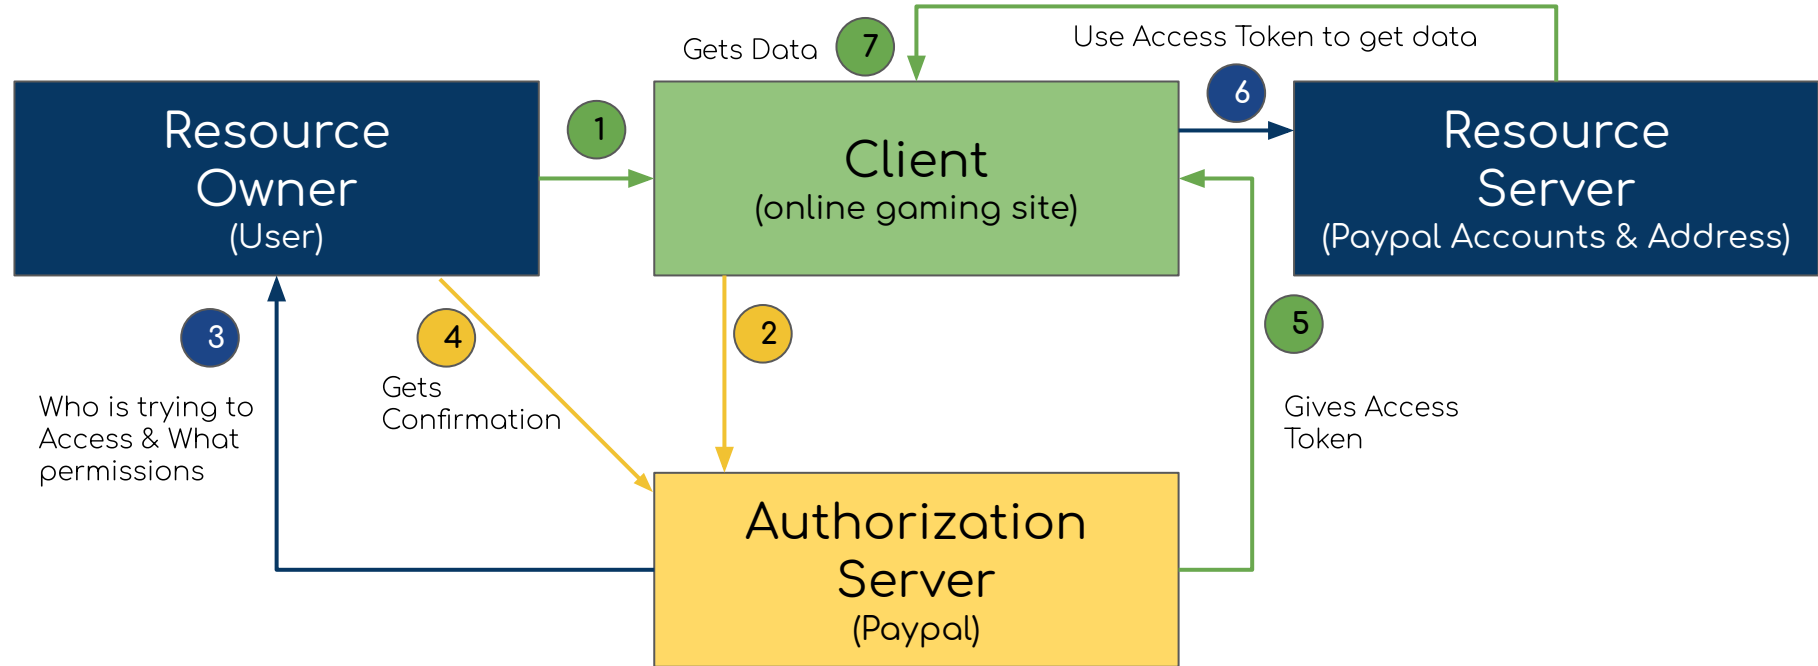

Implicit
Flow

Client Credentials
Flow

Authorization Code Flow involves authentication and access token to get access to a resource

Implicit flow uses access token to get access to a resource

Cons: Anyone who has access token can get access to resource

Client credentials flow involves authorization among confidential clients (aka trustworthy)

Communication among  $\mu$ S